

December 24, 2020

Pastor Green's Daily Encouragement

Merry Christmas to everyone. Even in the face of this pandemic, this coronavirus, or covid-19 or anything else we can call it, The Baby of Bethlehem is still born to us this happy morn. There is nothing that can stop us from seeking and receiving the peace and joy that comes from Him alone, and I pray for all of us that somewhere in your Silent Night, that you would find every needful blessing of body and soul. Somewhere in your Silent Night I pray that our God, Father, Son, and Holy Spirit would deliver you from every trouble in your life. I pray that He would take away any pain that is causing you to lose sleep today. More than anything, I pray that the peace of Christmas would come to you in large measure, that the love and mercy of God would be more than enough to guide and direct you into a Spirit filled life where you find an abundance of good things. I pray that the Peace and love and joy of Christmas would be yours today and beyond, in Jesus' name. Amen. Our Christmas song is a Casting Crowns song called "Somewhere In Your Silent Night." Don't enter this new day without listening to it. Merry Christmas.