

December 28, 2020

Pastor Green's Daily Encouragement

I'm not ready to box my Christmas away yet this year. I don't know if I'll ever be ready this year. It's only been three days since Christmas Day and I've already seen Christmas trees at the curb. It could be that the tree I saw was cut in November and has now dried out to where the needles were all falling, or it could mean that someone is already through with Christmas. I'm hoping and praying that the light of Christmas stays with me well into the new year ahead. I pray the same for you as well. Push everything that is a waste of your time and energy out of the way today and make room for more Christmas. Make room in your life for the Child Who came to set you free to live eternally. He is our best present of all, don't pack Him away just yet, keep Him with you in all that you do, this week and next year too. You can't hold on to Christmas joy if you hide it away for a year, keep the love and peace and joy of Christmas as near to you as a heartbeat, or a whispered prayer. Jesus has come, don't send Him away. Our song for this final Monday of 2020 is "Make Room" by Casting Crowns and Matt Redman. Make room for more Christmas, for more Jesus today.