Pastor Green's Daily Encouragement

Gobble Gobble were the correct words to describe yesterday. It even caused me to sleep in until 5:00 AM today, and that doesn't happen often. I'll blame the turkey . . . and the ham, and the potatoes, dressing and gravy too. Maybe it was the pumpkin pie, or even the apple crumb pie. Perhaps it was all of the above. Whatever it was, it was delicious. Thank You God for providing everything. Today is the day that I've dreaded for years . . . Black Friday. I never attempt to go to the stores on this day. I did that one time many years ago, and I almost didn't make it out alive. You know there are crazy shoppers out there. Please don't be one of them. Good people seem to lose their decency and kindness on this day, I pray that you are not one of them. There is one silver lining in all of this year of covid, you won't be seeing thousands of Ontario license plates filling up the store parking lots. Of course next year we'll all be paying higher local taxes because the Canadians were not here supporting our sales taxes. I suppose the bottom line is to be kind and courteous to others today, and not just this day, but attempt to do that every day. God created you to love your neighbor, that's how you were designed. Don't go against your created nature, be loving, as the Lord has loved you.

Our song for this day is called "Be a Light," and it is performed by Thomas Rhett, and a few of his friends.
