

March 20, 2021
Pastor Green

We made it. It's been a whole year now, 365 consecutive days of these posts. When I posted the first message last March 20, 2020, I never expected to post any others. Once again, I was wrong. Today's message is going to be a re-post of that first message. On that day I hadn't added a song, but I will today because it is Secular Saturday. The song that I am including today is the first secular song that I used, and it is "All My Loving" by the Beatles. So here is the message that started this, along with John, Paul, George, and Ringo. Have a most wonderfully blessed day in the name of the Lord.

Good Morning to you all. I just wanted to take a moment to remind you to do all that you can to help slow/stop the spread of the Covid-19 virus. And please remember that this is not a time for whining and complaining, or hoarding for that matter. It's a time for prayer and reflection. This is not a curse sent to us from God, rather a scourge from Satan. In Christ alone will I be placing my faith and hope and trust today. And I will be doing my best to obey our leaders in government, and to listen to the recommendations of the professionals at the CDC (Center for Disease Control). Please offer your own prayers to our Heavenly Father today that this may be over soon. Be patient, be loving, and be still and know that He is God. +