Do you ever TGIF (Thank God It's Friday)? I suppose I do, but I also thank Him for the other six days too. Today, just like yesterday is a gift from Him. Every good thing is from Him, and we are called to do our best to honor Him with our prayers of thanksgiving for every new day. If you haven't been doing that, then today would be a great time to begin. If He blesses you with a tomorrow, go right back and thank Him again. A new day is not promised, but it is a wonderful present to us. If you are blessed with a new day, what are you going to do with it? How will you respond to God for receiving? Will you demonstrate to Him and to the world around you that you are a faithful, thankful follower of Him through His Son, our Lord Jesus? Will you do anything that tells those around you that the Love of God lives in and shines through you? I pray that this is the type of grateful heart that you have, one that shares your thankfulness and joy. There is a joy that is found in the Lord that can't be found anywhere else, so take Him with you wherever you go today, and wherever you go tomorrow, and the next day, etc. etc. You see where we're going with this? Go to Him today.

Our song gives us some suggestions as to how we can treat our new day. The name of the song is "Start a Fire" and it is performed by Unspoken. Have a Fantastic Friday, in the joy of the Lord.
