Welcome back my friends to the post that never ends. It's Tuesday, terrific I pray, and if not, then at least get your Tuesday tacos. That could be our daily bread today. You never know how God will deliver His gifts to us, it might be a slice of Wonder bread, or it may be a tortilla. It doesn't matter, His blessings will sustain us. He fed His people manna from Heaven during their exodus from slavery in Egypt. He provided a meal to thousands of people using only a couple of fish and a few loaves of bread. Indeed, we have a great, powerful God Who can do anything, and He does it for us. If this is shaping up to be a great day, then give Him thanks. If the day isn't going well, give Him thanks and ask for His help, He is waiting for you to come to Him. Your prayers are music to His ears. And it is always foolish to take your concerns anywhere else, no one can bring you what you need like He can. My prayer for all of you today is that you don't waste any of your day worrying about things that you can't change, but take those things to Jesus, He is our Great Physician of body and soul. And He is our deliverer. Amy Grant is singing our Tuesday song today and it is titled "Better Than a Hallelujah."
