Still continuing with the Independence Day theme today as many of you have the day off. You may not be getting up real early today because of the fireworks last night in your neighborhood, but I pray that you get enough rest today. Freedom isn't something that you can celebrate only one day a year, it's something that is a part of us and needs to be looked at daily. We have the freedom to worship in this nation, but more importantly Jesus died to give us real freedom. His freedom gives us the opportunity to rise above the troubles of this world. His freedom places us on a path that leads us to Heavenly riches in His great name. The freedom from Jesus delivers us from sin, death, and Satan. He is our true deliverer, He is our Lord and our God. No other freedoms, even those won for us in 1776 provides us with as much as Jesus does. If you're continuing your Independence Day celebration on this Monday, please remember to thank those who gave you the freedoms that allow you to read these words today, and please also thank the Lord Who gave these words and His eternal freedom.

Our song for this Monday morning is simply called "Freedom" and it is performed by the "Jesus Culture." Take care of yourselves today, be safe, be smart, be the sons and daughters that you were created to be. Amen.
