Is it morning already? Yes, it is, and I could use a few more hours of sleep today. I scheduled an early dentist appointment today, so I'll be getting ready for that instead of sleeping. I'm praying that you get enough sleep every day, and that you are able to function at a high level because of that extra rest. Extra rest is the reason that God gave the world the Sabbath. He set aside one day for us to rest and not work. We now look upon Sunday as our day of rest. He spent six days creating everything and rested on the seventh, so this is a call for us to do the same. Look ahead to Sunday even now and prepare for your rest, and in the process look to that day as a day to attend worship and offer Him your thanksgiving and praise for the gifts that He has provided for you. Do this every Sunday, because He never stops His giving nor His loving. But it's only Thursday you might be thinking. Well, yes, you are correct, it is Thursday, but I'm suggesting that you begin to prepare to visit and obey Him a few days from now. Make a plan, make it early, then make it happen. Plan to do this weekly, you'll be so glad that you did. Then, when you arrive at church, attend a Bible class, take your children or grandchildren to a Sunday school class. Teach them the history of our faith. Our song for this Thursday is "Tell Me Again" by Geoff Moore and the Distance. Have yourself a terrific day in the Lord's name, and with His blessings
