One of the first things I do every morning is get my computer up and running, to prepare and send this post, and to begin to check messages. Some might do the same with a tablet or even a smart phone. When I was young, you needed a room the size of a gymnasium to house a computer, and even a computer that large couldn't do all that a smart phone can do today. As much as these instruments have made our lives easier, they have also caused us many headaches. We are constantly at risk of becoming victims of cyber criminals, hackers who would steal from us. This is just one reason that we should never completely allow our computers and other electronic tools take the place of common sense. This is also a great reason not to place our faith, and hope, and trust in a machine, but to place it where it belongs. Technology is changing faster than we can keep up, but the place to find peace and serenity is in a God Who is unchangeable and incorruptible. In Him alone can we find a place where we don't have to worry, because we have His promises, and those are always accurate and true. We use the word awesome way too much, but there is one place that it is always appropriate, and that is to describe our Lord. In fact, our song for this Thursday is "Awesome Is the Lord Most High" by Chris Tomlin. Have a most terrific day in the name of the Lord Jesus. Amen.
