Good morning friends, hoping that you woke up today with a song in your heart. And I pray that it was a good song. On Tuesday and Wednesday morning I woke up with a rather strange song in my head, and it took two days to get it out. It was Sammy Davis Jr. singing "Candy Man." I can't imagine where that came from, but I'm happy to see it disappear. Today was different, I woke up with another song, but it was much better and much more appropriate for this post. I've been hearing this song over the past month on Christian radio, but I really didn't stop and listen to the lyrics until yesterday. It made me think, and it made me remember that when we get to Heaven, we will have no troubles of any kind. No sickness, no disease, no sin, just eternal joy, and the only one there Who will possess any scars at all will be the scars that Jesus suffered on the Cross to save us from the bonds of Hell. For us, there will be no scars in Heaven. Are you ready to enter the eternal Kingdom? I pray that you are, this is the reason that I get up and post these messages every morning, to lead you to a closer relationship with our Savior. I plan to be in that Kingdom for eternity, and it is always my hope and my prayer that you will be there with me. We all know how to get there, because Jesus is the Way there. Jesus is the Way, the Truth, and the Life and He is the only way to the Father in Heaven. Please, never forget that. Our song for this wonderful first Thursday in September is "Scars in Heaven" by Casting Crowns. Be powered and lifted up through this music.
