One more time, everything was ready to post and it mysteriously disappeared. Oh well, we start again. Hallelujah, it's a tremendous new day to be alive in God's creation. I can tell already that I'm going to have a busy day from start to finish. At the end of the day Graham has a soccer game and then I have a meeting after that. Like I said, busy, start to finish. But I'm not worried because I know that Jesus will be with me every step of the way. He'll be there for you too, and one way that you can be sure of it is to simply ask Him for His help today. Start your day with prayers in His name, and God will hear them. You have a much better outcome when you begin your day on your knees in prayer. Truth is, He already knows all of your needs, but He likes us to ask Him, so ask in prayer. Whatever this day brings, I am sure that Jesus will be here with me, so I have nothing to fear. Cast your fears and your concerns on the Savior of the world, He alone has the the power and the tools to fix whatever is damaged in our lives. Let Him fix things. Our song for this terrific Tuesday is called "Down On My Knees" and it is performed by Freddie Spires. Have a most peaceful day in Jesus.
