

Monday, October 11, 2021

Good morning and Happy Columbus Day to everyone, (except my Canadian friends, Happy Thanksgiving to you. An hour and twenty minute storm delay in Kansas City caused me to be very late today. You can't get to bed at almost 1:00 AM then get up between 3:00 and 4:00 AM to post on Facebook. Well, I couldn't do it. Here we are on this holiday Monday, late but smiling from the Bills' win last night. If you were not able to make it to church yesterday, we have a service tonight at 7:00 PM, you are invited to join us. God's house is always welcoming you at St. Paul. His Holy Spirit moves us to attend worship, and that is the same Spirit Who gets me out of bed in the middle of the night to post these messages. He let me sleep in this morning because He knew how late I was up, and all I have to say to that is "Thank you." God knows our needs and He provided for an important one of mine today. Cast your cares on Him and He will do the same for you. Have a great day on this holiday Monday and don't forget to spend a little time with the Lord today. Our song for this day is "I'm Gonna See Jesus" by B.J. Thomas. Great song, listen.