Up, up, and away, we've been given another Sunday. A brand new day, a brand new week, and the possibilities are endless. I'm praying that those possibilities will include a nap sometime today. God has been so faithful to us, He has been too good, and I'm praying that it continues. What do we deserve because of our behavior and disobedience to His Word? Well, nothing good, that's for certain, yet the good from Him always makes it to us. It can't be said enough, thank you Lord. What a Friend we have in Jesus. And we'll be singing that soon today, along with some other favorites of mine. I'm looking forward to seeing you today, so when the Holy Spirit moves you to get moving today, follow Him. Our song for this sensational Sunday is called "In His Time" by Don Moen. Climb out of bed and listen. Have a special day in the love of the Lord.
