Happy, Happy Sunday to you. It's going to be a wonderful day, and I promise you that the Bills will not lose today. Oh yeah, it's their Bye week and they don't play, but they won't lose anything today. Losing might not a bad thing for us today; losing our illness, our insecurities, or our fears. Actually, we don't lose them, Jesus takes them from us. If you're looking for healing of some type, give the problem to the Lord. If there is something in your life that you don't want to drag around with you, turn it over to the King of Kings. Who better to grant us the freedom from pain, and worry, and heartbreak. That was a trick question, there is no one else who can do that, only Jesus. Come to church this morning, or tomorrow evening and we will join you in praying for the deliverance that you need. Don't let anything stop you from seeking your own relief through the Savior, He has the answers and He has the tools, so give it to Him. Our Sunday morning song is called "Better is One Day" by Matt Redman. See you in worship, 8:00 or 10:45, Monday night at 7:00.
