Welcome to a Peaceful Sunday morning. It is my prayer that the day would remain that way from start to finish. The start part is looking good. This is the end of Saturday for some, and the beginning of Sunday and a brand new week for others. I pray that worship would be included in your day. Today is Reformation Day in the Lutheran Church and we celebrate Martin Luther's work towards correcting the errors of the 16th century Christian church. It was on October 31, 1517 that Luther posted his famous 95 Theses to the door of the Castle church in Wittenberg, Germany in what he hoped would begin a discussion within the church. Five hundred and four years later, the teaching of Martin Luther still lives on. Most Lutheran Churches around the world will be singing "A Mighty Fortress Is Our God," a hymn written by Luther himself. Find your way to church this morning and offer your Heavenly Father your praise and gratitude for raising up such a man as Martin Luther. Thank Him also for every blessing that comes to you on this Sunday morning. Our song for this day, by no small coincidence is Martin Luther's "A Mighty Fortress Is Our God."
