We've successfully arrived at the end of another work week. Just think, another thousand or so more Fridays and we'll be ready to retire, maybe. If you've already retired, be thankful for that, and if you're still working, be thankful for that as well. That seems to be our theme this week, be thankful for the gifts in our lives. Be thankful for the freedoms we share, the love of God that He provides, and the forgiveness we receive through the death and resurrection of His Son Jesus. Only through the death and resurrection of Jesus can we be given eternal life, and all who believe in Him will spend eternity with Him. What a wonderful promise from God, just as all of His promises are. Jesus' sacrifice on the Cross at Calvary provides us with the freedom to live, and not just today, but forever. As we celebrated Veteran's Day this week, we remembered that the sacrifice of so many American men and women provided and still provides us with the many Earthly freedoms that we enjoy, including the freedom to share our faith, and worship in peace. We should be forever grateful. As today is the final day of Veteran's week, our song is not really a song, but the video will speak to you and tell you everything you need to know about those sacrifices. Have a great week's end, in Jesus' name.
