Say kids, what time is it? No, it's not Howdy Doody time, it's time to get up and thank God for another day in His Earthly kingdom. Good morning to everyone, and here's hoping that you will all have a fantastic Friday. Do you have weekend plans or do you just plan to hang around the house and rest a bit? Whatever your plans are, don't forget to take Jesus with you. Take Him when you leave the house, and have Him with you when you lounge at home. He prefers to be with you, so honor Him by taking Him up on that. My best days occur when I invite Him to be near me, and the same is possible for you. The closer the Lord is, the better our lives are. What a blessing to know that we are children of God and there is nothing that we can do that will separate us from His love that comes to us through Jesus. We can mess up, and we have the promise that we are still loved and forgiven. How great is that, to know that there is forgiveness for all of our mistakes. Makes me try to make fewer mistakes, how about you. When we are loved like that, we don't want to let the Lord down, even though we sometimes still do. Keep moving forward in faith, keep growing in that faith, and keep trying to bring others to that same faith. Our song for this Friday morning is by Matt Maher and it is called "All the People Said Amen." Great lyrics here to guide your day, Amen.
