Here we go friends, time to kick off another Sunday time of worship. What a blessing to be able to meet up with brothers and sisters in faith today to offer our thanksgiving and praise to God for the multitude of gifts that we will be given today and every day. This is the first day of what is Thanksgiving week, and it's a good day to begin our thankful expressions of gratitude to the Lord. And once you've counted your blessings today, go back and remember the greatest blessing, the best present that that world has ever received . . . our Savior Jesus. He makes all things bearable. Take a look at your God-given gifts this week and be thankful, then when the week ends, keep going in that same thankful direction. Never take the blessings of God for granted. Today is also the last Sunday in the church year. Next Sunday will be the first Sunday in Advent, and you know what that means . . . Christmas isn't too far off. Time to get to church my friends. Have a great day in the name of the Lord. Our Sunday song is "Give Thanks" sung by Don Moen. Be overjoyed with your thankfulness today.
